EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

With the vision to be a hub of excellence in technical education, SIT College of Engineering set out its journey in 2008. Friends! It doesn't matter where you are coming from, all that matters is where you are going. Since commencement our institute has been taking ceaseless endeavors to discover so far concealed strengths and abilities of rural students so as to prove that in no field of life they are inferior to urban elites by rendering them the promising vistas of opportunities. For that institute has evolved its own unique system named Sharad Pattern which places emerging technocrats of countryside at the centre and regards them as the true owner of institute. Here the utmost care has been taken for the fulfillment of versatile needs of aspirants. It has a compact square of students, parents, teachers and management. Experienced and dedicated faculty, industrious students, supportive parents and anticipating management are the cater-pillars of Sharad Pattern. Socio-economic enrichment first the students, by default parents, then the personnel and none the management is the true motive of it. Here true happiness lies in their prosperity. It is a pledge to stand to the test of their expectations by providing complete satisfaction to all. Ultimately, the foremost priority is bestowed on developing a working taxonomy of knowledge for the welfare of students and society through technical education.

Friends, India is considered a pool of global talent. We have provided near about thirty six percent professionals to America alone until today. However, global scenario has become more and more competitive; industry requirements have undergone a phenomenal change in recent recession. We don't require technocrats just looking for job but those generating jobs. Picture of technical education has not remained as rosy as it is perceived and projected to be. Aspirants' just exam oriented attitude has to take a backseat instead they should put thrust on honing their skills and everything will fall in line. For the same, we are managing the herculean task to provide them good infrastructure and vivid facilities, technical education coupled with industrial collaboration. Simultaneously, we are focusing on the students' co-curricular and extracurricular activities for crystallizing their personality. It aims to equip students with technical knowledge, capabilities, flexibility and an understanding of the technological and socio-economical context of corporate sector in the era of liberalization, privatization and globalization to meet the national and international demands. Friends, the world becoming a global village and globalization coupled with stiff competition is making its presence felt at the doorsteps. So, this is my cordial message to all stake holders of our institution to Rethink, Revamp & Reshape your personality and always think the right place at the right time is here and now.

I wish you all the best!

Mr. Anil A. Bagane
Executive Director
