

Aarhus University will offer 42-day training in 'Business Modelling' of Herning campus. This training will be useful for Engineering/Management student, who are interested to start their own business or want to create consultancy in business models.

This training will help student to create one do valuation of their start-up companies. Any student who has developed a technology product, files a patent, this training will be externally useful.